Black River Falls, Wis., Aug. 8.—Two small tornadoes swept through this section early last night, killing five persons and injuring at least 20. Scores of buildings were demolished and property loss may exceed $1,000,000.

Telephone and telegraph wires were still out early today and a check of casualties and damage in the country nearby was impossible. Word reaching here overland gave the dead as:

Julius Baglien, 16, on a farm near Osseo.

Richard Secora, 25, living near New Auburn.

Percy Walther, Bloomer.

George Nash, 50, and Alice Garwin, 3, were killed at Black River Falls.

William Berg, 60, injured in the collapse of his barn at Bloomer, died today.

The storms struck here first and leaped northwest to Osseo and later struck with full fury near Bloomer.

Richard Secora, a farmer near New Auburn, was caught in a field and hurled to his death as he ran for the house to escape the storm.

Julius Baglien was pinned in the wreckage of his home and fatally injured. His mother was seriously injured and other members of the family hurt.

A new storm was raging in west central Wisconsin this morning. So far as could be learned up to 8 a. m. the storm today was mostly rain with severe lightning. There was no severe wind at this hour.

STORMS SWEEP
NORTHERN IOWA

St. Paul, Aug. 8.—Storms swept northern Iowa last night and early today, causing heavy damage and playing havoc with communication.

Heavy rains accompanied by severe lightning and strong winds caused extensive losses to crops and property.

So far no report of casualties has reached the Twin Cities.

PROPERTY DAMAGE NOW
MOUNTS TO $3,000,000

Six are dead, at least a score injured and property damage will exceed $3,000,000 in two violent storms which swept Nebraska, Iowa, Wisconsin and part of Minnesota last night and early today.

One storm swept northwestward from Tomah, Wis., to Bloomer, Wis., last night.

Another storm swept out of central Nebraska early today and vented its fury on Des Moines at daybreak.

While the Nebraska-Iowa storm apparently was the worse, the most severe and most extensive, no casualties have been reported so far.

Two persons were killed in Black River Falls, Wis., last night and additional deaths were reported, one each from Osseo, Bloomer and New Auburn. The Wisconsin storm struck Black River Falls at 6 p. m.

Six inches of rain fell during a veritable cloudburst at Columbus, Neb., early this morning. There was heavy hail and wind. This storm swept southwestward and struck Des Moines at 5:15 a. m., deluging the town. The wind unroofed more than 100 houses in Des Moines and the rain flooded the streets.

Heavy hail that accompanied the storm beat crops into the ground and the rain washed out fields, highways and culverts. Virtually all contributors of the Missouri and Mississippi rivers in Iowa and Nebraska were at flood stage.

Property and crop damage in the Wisconsin storm was estimated from various sources at around $1,000,000. Iowa and Nebraska property and crop damage, according to rail-

GOLDISH ARGUMENTS
COAXED DOLLARS
FROM THE FARMERS

(By United Press)
Duluth, Aug. 8.—Hundreds of farmers in this section were swindled by Sam Goldish, according to federal agents who brought him into court late yesterday on charges of using the mails to defraud.

Goldish pleaded not guilty and was held in the county jail in default of bond. His case will be tried at the general term of court.

George Hall, state market inspector, said Goldish made contracts with farmers by mail for their perishable produce, offering high prices which he failed to pay. He is said to have made thousands of dollars in this way, promising special commission service on produce. He is alleged to have operated under the fictitious firm name of White Fish company.

Hugh Fleming, U. S. postal inspector, investigated the case and secured the indictment. Goldish disappeared and was located in Superior after a five weeks' search.

(By United Press)
Criminal Courtroom, Chicago, Aug. 8.—The defense in the Leopold-Loeb murder hearing today sprang a surprise when it shelved temporarily its lay witnesses and placed Dr. Robert Bruce Armstrong, family physician of the millionaire family, on the stand.

The physician came here from Charlevoix, Mich., where the parents of Richard Loeb, co-defendant with Nathan Leopold, have their palatial summer home.

Dr. Armstrong said Dick was brought to hospital after an automobile accident but he found no injuries. After staying at the hospital for about two hours Dick was discharged as a patient, Dr. Armstrong said.

Young Loeb, the doctor said, displayed nervous symptoms which led him to believe he was slightly "abnormal." This nervousness was not caused by the accident, the doctor said.

Dr. Armstrong's testimony was introduced by the defense in an attempt to support testimony of defense alienists and friends and former companions of the youthful slayers which indicated they are both "mentally abnormal."

Satisfied with this testimony from the Michigan physician, Clarence Darrow, chief defense counsel, turned the witness over to the state for cross-examination, but State's Attorney Crowe excused the doctor without questioning.

Leonard Lewy, university of Michigan graduate and fraternity brother of Loeb, told of seeing Loeb faint on two occasions. Loeb, he said, frothed at the mouth and became rigid.

A preliminary examination of the bank's books for the last year showed defalcations of $75,000. Charges of embezzlement were made on last Monday when the federal bank examiner went over the books. Ludwig disappeared the same day.

LA FOLLETTE
DENOUNCES
KU KLUX KLANSAYS "HAS WITHIN ITS OWN BODY SEEDS OF ITS DEATH"REGRETS THAT "QUESTION INVOLVING RELIGIOUS OPINION" IS RAISED

(By United Press)
Washington, Aug. 8.—Robert M. LaFollette met the Ku Klux Klan issue today with an open denunciation of the order by name.

"I am unalterably opposed to the evident purpose of this secret organization known as the Ku Klux Klan as disclosed by its public acts," the independent presidential candidate declared.

"It cannot long survive."

"Relying upon the sound judgment and good sense of the people it is my opinion that such a movement is foredoomed. It has within its own body the seeds of its death."

LaFollette's first open statement on the issue was given in a letter to Robert P. Scripps, editorial director of the Scripps-Howard newspapers, who wrote the senator urging that his opinion should be made known because of the national prominence—justly or unjustly—given the question.

Heretofore LaFollette has shunned all Klan queries into the background because he believes—and still believes, as he says in his letter to Scripps—that the "all-embracing" issue of this campaign is "to break the combined power of private monopolies system over the political life of the American people."

LaFollette expressed regret that a "question involving religious opinion" had been raised. Even after the republican convention wrote its religious freedom plank and the democratic convention staged its bitter floor fight over the Klan plank, LaFollette presented his convention with a platform that took no cognizance of the Klan issue or religion.

He stressed economic ills and remedies.

In this, his first open statement on the issue, LaFollette quotes Abraham Lincoln and Thomas Jefferson to support his stand. He recalls a letter written by Lincoln in 1865 in which the Civil War president declared that certain forces at that time were apparently attempting to change the constitution so that it reads "all men are created equal except negroes, foreigners and Catholics."

Jefferson, who wrote this nation's constitution, is quoted by LaFollette as saying in 1803 that "I never will by word or act bow to at the shrine of intolerance or admit the right of inquiry into religious opinions of others."

Return Is Filed on
Supreme Court Verdict
Handed Down in 1916

St. Paul, Aug. 8.—What is believed to be a record for slowness in the filing of a return and mandate of the state supreme court clerk was revealed today in Ramsey county district court.

It is the return on the appeal of the National Council of Knights and Ladies of Security from a verdict given by a jury in district court on June 27, 1916, in favor of Aneta Abramovitz and Max Schwartz for $1,997.65.

The suit was filed to recover $2,000 on an alleged insurance policy, issued to Joseph Schwartz. It was charged the defendant failed to pay the policy after Mr. Schwartz's death.

The defendant charged Mr. Schwartz failed to pay certain dues.

An appeal was taken to the supreme court Aug. 12, 1916, and the decision, granting a new trial, was filed today. The supreme court determined that the defendant, who appealed, is entitled to recover $127.50.

East Grand Forks, Minn., Aug. 8.—Federal prohibition agents from the Twin Cities last night and this morning created a reign of terror among rum runners and bootleggers of this city.

In a series of spectacular raids on soft drink parlors, garages and other liquor dispensing agencies they seized 615 pints of Canadian ale, 159 gallons of alcohol, two special rum running automobiles and made three arrests.

Warrants for the arrest of three more were issued. The raiding force consisted of a half dozen agents. They nabbed Joseph Pilteau, Edwin Larson and John Becker. The warrants named Robert Hiren, Floyd Kearn and C. C. Reed.

The two automobiles, new and with specially constructed bodies for carrying liquor, were seized when agents were given information that garages were in reality headquarters for a gang of international runners operating between this city, Canada and the Twin Cities.

The British premier is going to Lissiemouth, Scotland, for as long as the present troubled state of affairs will permit.

The German delegation which conferred in the Ritz hotel this morning was to meet the Allies this afternoon.

(By United Press)
Washington, Aug. 8.—A new trade era in the Hawaiian Islands is seen by army officers here as a result of plans being consummated by Brig. Gen. Mitchell, assistant chief of the air service.

Within a short time, Mitchell expects to have airmen established on all the islands of the group and definite airways laid out for regular trips between them.

The small island of Lanai saw its first plane a few weeks ago, when the Fourth Observation Squadron, stationed at Wheeler Field, Hawaii, landed a ship there.

Work is now going forward rapidly, with the pilots from Wheeler Field, Hawaii acting as pioneers. When their routes have been completed, they anticipate a boom in commercial flying in the Hawaiian group.

(By United Press)
London, Aug. 8.—Final agreement by the international conference on putting the experts' plan into operation is believed imminent.

Observers forecast the likelihood that this fifteenth conclave on reparations since Versailles will differ from the others in that it will end in success.

They base their hopes upon two things:

1. The contacts which the German delegates, especially Chancellor Marx and Foreign Minister Stresemann, have succeeded in establishing with Premier Herriot of France.

2. The fact that Prime Minister MacDonald still plans if possible to leave London at 5 p. m. tomorrow on his vacation.

MacDonald's preparations for departure are accepted as a strong indication that an agreement is at hand.

The British premier is going to Lissiemouth, Scotland, for as long as the present troubled state of affairs will permit.

STUCK IN THE ICE

(By United Press)
Reykjavik, Iceland, Aug. 8.—Temporarily baffled but far from beaten, the American world flight expedition leaders held a council of war aboard the scout cruiser Richmond today to plan their campaign for the next battle with the frozen north.

Lieut. Lowell Smith, Rear Admiral Thomas Magruder, Commander Clarence E. Crumrine discussed what should be done about getting the flight under way once more.

A wireless from Danmagsalik declaring that the Danish steamer Gertrude Rask, which has needed supplies aboard, still was frozen in the ice, was discussed.

"Unless the ice spreads the Rask will be unable to assist the flight," the message said.

The cruiser Raleigh will leave tomorrow on a scout expedition along the east coast of Greenland to report on weather and observe the drift of the ice.

Lieut. Leight Wade, whose plane sank after a forced landing near the Afros, will do his bit in renewing the flight by going along with the Raleigh to help with the observations.

An attempt will be made to find a suitable landing place on the Greenland coast.

The flight will not attempt to leave Reykjavik until the Raleigh reports.

GIRL, 16, MISSING AFTER

Minneapolis, Aug. 8.—Minneapolis police are searching for Juanita Libby, 16-year-old Princeton, Minn., girl, who disappeared a week ago.

Miss Libby had been visiting her sister, Mrs. J. L. Foote, 2104 Aldrich ave. n., Minneapolis, but she left on Saturday. Her brother, Lyndon Libby, Princeton, received a note from the girl a week ago saying she was working for a family and taking care of three children.

The note was traced to a Minneapolis butcher shop, but the girl was not known there.

She is of medium height and weight. She has black hair, sprinkled with gray despite her youth.

The dead are all negroes.

(By United Press)
Minneapolis, Aug. 8.—The plan to sell 1,062 country and terminal elevators in the Northwest to the Illinois Grain corporation has been dropped. The deal was to have involved $26,000,000. J. H. McMillan, chairman of the committee of five representing the 36 grain companies said the plan to sell had been abandoned.

J. F. Reed, president of the Minnesota Farm Bureau federation and one of the directors of the Illinois Grain corporation, said no formal offer of sale had ever been made.

"The only offers we ever had were through the newspapers," said Reed, returning from Chicago. "We considered that an unusual way to make contracts. It may be the millers' way but it is not the farmers' way. If an offer had been submitted in a business way we would have given it consideration."

Simultaneously it was announced that E. F. Rosenbaum, Chicago, would be here in a few days to organize a central office for their farmers' agency. He was head of one of the five big companies merged in Chicago.

OLYMPIC TRIPN. M. PAINE IS PRESENTED WITH HONORARY LIFE MEM-
BERSHIPDELEGATE TO BOSTON NATIONAL CONVENTION GIVES HIS REPORT

It was a great night in Elkdom Thursday evening, crammed with interesting things, a program offered that brought out attendance in spite of counter attractions of the summer time.

Brainerd Lodge went on record to make a bid for the 1925 state convention, and so instructed its delegates and members and friends. Cars for the Duluth convention, all Brainerd visitors at the convention will be placarded with the slogan, "Brainerd in 1925." It is hoped to have the Elks' quartet at Duluth and maybe a drum corps, too. As to attendance at Duluth convention, Secretary John J. Cummins has received a ream of reservations for the boat trip on the lakes.

Brainerd Lodge district has a wealth of things to offer any convention. Brainerd itself, the Brainerd Lake Region and the admirable summer home and summer resort section in which latter Captain and Mrs. William H. Fawcett's Breezy Point Lodge occupies a commanding position; and then the Cuyuna iron range mining section with its large membership of Elks.

Brainerd's park system of Tourist Park, Gregory Park and the enlarged Lum Park will join in offering a welcome to the Elks. Located in the center of state, Brainerd is easy of access by rail or road. The Chamber of Commerce is on record as inviting the Elks to Brainerd in 1925 and other civic organizations will join.

Capt. Fawcett's Talk on Olympics. One of the most interesting addresses given was that of Captain William H. Fawcett, Brainerd Elk, who captained the Olympic team of trapshooters and won imperishable glory for the U. S. A.

"No matter how much foreign territory I saw," said Captain Fawcett, "I never saw anything to compare with our Crow Wing county and its lake region."

Trapshooting, said the captain, was a kind of a side issue to the Olympic games, just like skiing, skating, etc. He recounted how his team was a guest of the New York Westchester-Biltmore club for two days, and met the best shots of New England, Pennsylvania and New York and defeated all comers.

Later they shot at the Nassau gun club and at Mineola, Long Island. Then came the busy time getting passports and completing final arrangements for the ocean voyage. They boarded the Minnewaski.

On board Captain Fawcett met young Richards, world's tennis champion. Arriving at London they shot 13 out of the 21 days they were there. They were guests of the North London club, at Waltham Abbey, Hendon, Baisley, etc. On the last day they contended for the British championship event. In Captain Fawcett's team two scored 100 straight, two made 99 each and three shot 98 each.

From London Captain Fawcett, Hughes and two other members of the team flew to Paris. The huge plane carried eight passengers, five trunks and piles of smaller luggage. The airplane motor made 1800 revolutions a minute. They flew as a rule only 1,000 feet up. Captain Fawcett remarked that in many flights over Brainerd he had attained a height of 7,000 feet. When winging over the English channel, the plane soared to 2,000 feet altitude. In two and a half hours they had crossed to Paris.

He described the many beautiful features of the city of Paris, the ancient wall surrounding it. An American is quickly spotted, for he

ALLIED PARLEY AGREEMENT IMMINENT

EXPERTS' PLANS MAY BE PUT INTO OPERATION
SOON

CONTACTS ESTABLISHED WITH THE GERMAN DELE-GATES

(By United Press)
London, Aug. 8.—Final agreement by the international conference on putting the experts' plan into operation is believed imminent.

Observers forecast the likelihood that this fifteenth conclave on reparations since Versailles will differ from the others in that it will end in success.

They base their hopes upon two things:

1. The contacts which the German delegates, especially Chancellor Marx and Foreign Minister Stresemann, have succeeded in establishing with Premier Herriot of France.

2. The fact that Prime Minister MacDonald still plans if possible to leave London at 5 p. m. tomorrow on his vacation.

MacDonald's preparations for departure are accepted as a strong indication that an agreement is at hand.

The British premier is going to Lossiemouth, Scotland, for as long as the present troubled state of affairs will permit.

The German delegation which conferred in the Ritz hotel this morning was to meet the Allies this afternoon.

AIRPLANES TO STIMULATE TRADE IN HAWAIIAN IS.

(By United Press)
Washington, Aug. 8.—A new trade era in the Hawaiian Islands is seen by army officers here as a result of plans being consummated by Brig. Gen. Mitchell, assistant chief of the air service.

Within a short time, Mitchell expects to have airdromes established on all the islands of the group and definite airways laid out for regular trips between them.

The small island of Lanai saw its first plane a few weeks ago, when the Fourth Observation Squadron, stationed at Wheeler Field, Hawaii, landed a ship there.

Work is now going forward rapidly with the pilots from Wheeler Field, Hawaii acting as pioneers. When their routes have been completed, they anticipate a boom in commercial flying in the Hawaiian group.

August Sutherland, former cashier of the bank, was charged with receiving deposits knowing that the bank was insolvent. Frank Rinkel of Antler, Paul Norberg of Newburg and E. P. McDonald of Maxbass were all indicted, charged with permitting Sutherland to receive deposits while in possession of the knowledge that the bank was insolvent.

The dead are all negroes.

PLAN TO SELL 1,062 COUNTRY ELEVATORS FADES

(By United Press)
Minneapolis, Aug. 8.—The plan to sell 1,062 country and terminal elevators in the Northwest to the Illinois Grain corporation has been dropped. The deal was to have involved $20,000,000. J. H. McMillan, chairman of the committee of five representing the 36 grain companies said the plan to sell had been abandoned.

J. F. Reed, president of the Minnesota Farm Bureau federation and one of the directors of the Illinois Grain corporation, said no formal offer of sale had ever been made.

"The only offers we ever had were through the newspapers," said Reed, returning from Chicago. "We considered that an unusual way to make contracts. It may be the millers' way but it is not the farmers' way. If an offer had been submitted in a business way we would have given it consideration."

Simultaneously it was announced that E. F. Rosenbaum, Chicago, would be here in a few days to organize a central office for their farmers' agency. He was head of one of the five big companies merged in Chicago.

DANISH SCOUT BOAT IS STILL
STUCK IN THE ICE
FLOES

(By United Press)
Reykjavik, Iceland, Aug. 8.—Temporarily baffled but far from beaten, the American world flight expedition leaders held a council of war aboard the scout cruiser Richmond today to plan their campaign for the next battle with the frozen north.

Lieut. Lowell Smith, Rear Admiral Thomas Magruder, Commander Clarence E. Crumrine discussed what should be done about getting the flight under way once more.

A wireless from Angmagssalik declaring that the Danish steamer Gertrude Rask, which has needed supplies aboard, still was frozen in the ice, was discussed.

"Unless the ice spreads the Rask will be unable to assist the flight," the message said.

The cruiser Raleigh will leave tomorrow on a scout expedition along the east coast of Greenland to report on weather and observe the drift of the ice.

Lieut. Leight Wade, whose plane sank after a forced landing near the Afros, will do his bit in renewing the flight by going along with the Raleigh to help with the observations.

An attempt will be made to find a suitable landing place on the Greenland coast.

The flight will not attempt to leave Reykjavik until the Raleigh reports.

The note was traced to a Minneapolis butcher shop, but the girl was not known there.

She is of medium height and weight. She has black hair, sprinkled with gray despite her youth.

DELEGATE TO BOSTON NATIONAL CONVENTION GIVES HIS REPORT

It was a great night in Elkhod Thursday evening, crammed with interesting things, a program offered that brought out attendance in spite of counter attractions of the summer time.

Brainerd Lodge went on record to make a bid for the 1925 state convention, and so instructed its delegates and members, and friends. Cars for the Duluth convention, all Brainerd visitors at the convention will be placarded with the slogan, "Brainerd in 1925." It is hoped to have the Elks' quartet at Duluth and maybe a drum corps, too. As to attendance at Duluth convention, Secretary John J. Cummins has received a ream of reservations for the boat trip on the lakes.

Brainerd Lodge district has a wealth of things to offer any convention. Brainerd itself, the Brainerd Lake Region and the admirable summer home and summer resort section in which latter Captain and Mrs. William H. Fawcett's Breezy Point Lodge occupies a commanding position; and then the Cuyuna iron range mining section with its large membership of Elks.

Brainerd's park system of Tourist Park, Gregory Park and the enlarged Lum Park will join in offering a welcome to the Elks. Located in the center of state, Brainerd is easy of access by rail or road. The Chamber of Commerce is on record as inviting the Elks to Brainerd in 1925 and other civic organizations will join.

Capt. Fawcett's Talk on Olympics One of the most interesting addresses given was that of Captain William H. Fawcett, Brainerd Elk, who captained the Olympic team of trapshooters and won imperishable glory for the U. S. A.

"No matter how much foreign territory I saw," said Captain Fawcett, "I never saw anything to compare with our Crow Wing county and its lake region."

Trapshooting, said the captain, was a kind of a side issue to the Olympic games, just like skiing, skating, etc. He recounted how his team was a guest of the New York Westchester-Biltmore club for two days, and met the best shots of New England, Pennsylvania and New York and defeated all comers.

Later they shot at the Nassau gun club and at Mineola, Long Island. Then came the busy time getting passports and completing final arrangements for the ocean voyage. They boarded the Minnewaski.

On board Captain Fawcett met young Richards, world's tennis champion. Arriving at London they shot 13 out of the 21 days they were there. They were guests of the North London club, at Waltham Abbey, Hendon, Bisleigh, etc. On the last day they contended for the British championship event. In Captain Fawcett's team two scored 100 straight, two made 99 each and three shot 98 each.

From London Captain Fawcett, Hughes and two other members of the team flew to Paris. The huge plane carried eight passengers, five trunks and piles of smaller luggage. The airplane motor made 1800 revolutions a minute. They flew as a rule only 1,000 feet up. Captain Fawcett remarked that in many flights over Brainerd he had attained a height of 7,000 feet. When winging over the English channel, the plane soared to 2,000 feet altitude. In two and a half hours they had crossed to Paris.

He described the many beautiful features of the city of Paris, the ancient wall surrounding it. An American is quickly spotted, for he

OVER 1,000 AT CARNIVAL

CAMP LINCOLN, HUBERT, TO DRAW CROWDS FROM TWIN CITIES

Hubert, Minn., Aug. 8.—Over 1,000 Twin City persons are expected to attend the annual water carnival day at Camp Lincoln, Lake Hubert, next Saturday. Fifty-five boys, largely from Minneapolis and St. Paul, are spending two months at the camp this summer.

Water carnival day comes as a climax to the camp's intensive physical education course. The morning is devoted to track, baseball and boxing competition. Water sports including canoe and sailboat races, swimming and diving exhibitions and novelty races, are held in the afternoon.

The day's program is concluded in the evening with a life of Lincoln pageant, directed by George Lamb, prominent Minneapolis producer of amateur plays.

All Help Unfortunate

A singular custom prevails among the Tartars or Kurds. If a man loses his cattle or other property he pours a little brown sugar into a piece of colored cloth, ties it up, and carries one such parcel to each of his friends and acquaintances. In turn he is presented, according to circumstances, with a cow or sheep or a sum of money.

Truly wise you are not, unless your wisdom is constantly changing from your childhood to your death.—Masterlinck.

MEATLESS MEALS

For those who wish to eliminate meat from the diet, there are many substitutes or dishes which are sufficiently nourishing to take its place.

Spanish Potatoes.—Boil potatoes as usual, drain and while still hot turn into a large hot vegetable dish in which a generous portion of butter has been placed with three or four tablespoonsful of finely-minced onion. Chop the potatoes, mixing with the onion and butter, add salt and a few dashes of white pepper and serve very hot. If onion is not enjoyed use the same amount of minced parsley. As the dish is to be a hearty one, the butter must not be spared. This dish in many families where it is well liked, is never quite large enough.

Potatoes may be served with white sauce and as much cheese as one cares to add to the dish. Bake until well-heated through.

A rich cream soup with fingers of nicely buttered toast is always a good beginning.

Salads are so many and of such variety that they of themselves may solve the problem of the main dish.

Head lettuce with nuts and a heavy mayonnaise dressing is a meal of itself. When some other dish is served as the main one the salad may be simple; either sliced cucumbers or tomatoes or head lettuce with French dressing.

Desserts for meatless meals may be richer than those commonly served. Steamed puddings with rich sauces, ice cream with chocolate sauce, pastry of all kinds are all good in these menus.

When the nut roast is baking, in the same oven bake a dish of scalloped potatoes to serve with it.

Mock Sausages.—Soak one-half cupful of lima beans over night in water to cover. Drain and cook until tender, season well with salt and pepper. Put through a coarse sieve, add one-third of a cupful of bread crumbs, three tablespoonsful of butter, a pinch of sage, and one beaten egg with salt and pepper as needed. Shape in the form of sausages, dip into egg and crumbs and fry in deep fat. Serve with rings of fried apple overlapping, around the sausages.

Flustrated Bridegroom

A minister, as an illustration of extreme embarrassment, tells of a strapping big fellow who brought his demure young bride to the church parsonage for matrimonial purposes.

"According to my usual custom," says the minister, "I turned to the bridegroom at a certain point in the ceremony and said: 'John, this is your lawfully wedded wife.'"

"In the excitement of the occasion John turned awkwardly in the direction of his newly acquired life-mate and stammered: 'I'm pleased to meet you.'"

Explaining the Mystery

Speaking of children, this from the Wichita Eagle is not so bad: "Harry, how is it that your shoes are always shined each morning?" asked a teacher at Alexander Hamilton intermediate school last week. "It ain't my fault, teacher. Pa, he gets up to build the fire each morning and shines one of my shoes. Then I have to shine the other one to keep from looking funny."

A Bank Must Have Reserves

No bank lends all its deposits. The law requires that it maintain ample reserves. As deposits grow, the bank's usefulness in the community increases.

This conservative bank invites deposits on the basis of mutual interests. More money in this bank means more prosperity in Crow Wing County; greater prosperity leads to still larger deposits. So it goes in an ever widening circle of prosperity which benefits everyone—bank depositors most of all.

Chop the potatoes, mixing with the onion and butter, add salt and a few dashes of white pepper and serve very hot. If onion is not enjoyed use the same amount of minced parsley. As the dish is to be a hearty one, the butter must not be spared. This dish in many families where it is well liked, is never quite large enough.

Potatoes may be served with white sauce and as much cheese as one cares to add to the dish. Bake until well-heated through.

A rich cream soup with fingers of nicely buttered toast is always a good beginning.

Salads are so many and of such variety that they of themselves may solve the problem of the main dish. Head lettuce with nuts and a heavy mayonnaise dressing is a meal of itself. When some other dish is served as the main one the salad may be simple; either sliced cucumbers or tomatoes or head lettuce with French dressing.

Desserts for meatless meals may be richer than those commonly served. Steamed puddings with rich sauces, ice cream with chocolate sauce, pastry of all kinds are all good in these menus.

When the nut roast is baking, in the same oven bake a dish of scalloped potatoes to serve with it.

Mock Sausages.—Soak one-half cupful of lima beans over night in water to cover. Drain and cook until tender, season well with salt and pepper. Put through a coarse sieve, add one-third of a cupful of bread crumbs, three tablespoonfuls of butter, a pinch of sage, and one beaten egg with salt and pepper as needed. Shape in the form of sausages, dip into egg and crumbs and fry in deep fat. Serve with rings of fried apple overlapping, around the sausages.

Flustrated Bridegroom

A minister, as an illustration of extreme embarrassment, tells of a strapping big fellow who brought his demure young bride to the church parsonage for matrimonial purposes.

"According to my usual custom," says the minister, "I turned to the bridegroom at a certain point in the ceremony and said: 'John, this is your lawfully wedded wife.'"

"In the excitement of the occasion John turned awkwardly in the direction of his newly acquired life-mate and stammered: 'I'm pleased to meet you.'"

Explaining the Mystery

Speaking of children, this from the Wichita Eagle is not so bad: "Harry, how is it that your shoes are always shined each morning?" asked a teacher at Alexander Hamilton intermediate school last week. "It ain't my fault, teacher. Pa, he gets up to build the fire each morning and shines one of my shoes. Then I have to shine the other one to keep from looking funny."

25th ANNIVERSARY W. C. O. F. IN CITY

Event Commemorated With a Silver Jubilee Celebration in Brainerd

DAYS' EVENTS RECORDED

Solemn High Mass, Communion, Business Session, Reception and Banquet

Thursday, August 7th, was a red-letter day in the annals of St. Francis Court, No. 393, Women's Catholic Order of Foresters, and a milestone in the march of progress of this local fraternal organization, for it marked the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the order in Brainerd, and the event was commemorated with a silver jubilee celebration, beginning in the morning and closing with a banquet at the Ransford hotel in the evening.

The events of the day began with solemn high mass at St. Francis church at eight o'clock in the morning, celebrated by Rev. Father James Hogan, assisted by Father Walter Remis and Father Spain. The Foresters received holy communion in a body and Father Hogan preached an excellent sermon to the ladies.

In the afternoon a business session was held at Elks hall, the outstanding feature of which was the presentation of silver rosaries to five of the charter members of the local court, Mrs. Mary Murphy, Mrs. Sadie Dunn, Mrs. Bertha Theviot, Mrs. Mary Koop and Mrs. Margaret McDonald, as a slight token of appreciation for their untiring services for the welfare and growth of the order.

Following this meeting a reception was held, honoring Miss Mary L. Downes, high chief ranger of Chicago and other high court officers including Mrs. Fannie Miller, high trustee, of Minneapolis, and Mrs. Mary Fleming, of Virginia, Minnesota. Automobile tours and a noon luncheon for the visitors filled in the balance of the day's activities.

The silver jubilee was brought to a fitting close with an elaborate banquet, held in the main dining room of the Ransford hotel, to which one hundred and thirty-five diners were seated. In addition to the visiting officers the honor guests included Father James Hogan and Father Walter Remis, of the Brainerd parish and Father H. J. Spain, resident priest from Pine River.

The following excellent menu was discussed:

Fruit Cocktail
Dressed Celery Olives
Roast Spring Chicken with Dressing
New Potatoes Cream Peas
Tomato and Cucumber Salad
Parker House Rolls

Vanilla Ice Cream Cake Coffee
During the meal Graham's orchestra furnished music, which was much appreciated and which received much favorable comment.

A program of after-dinner talks was carried out, with Miss Carrie Deering acting as toast mistress. Miss Deering carried out this difficult role in a very efficient manner, first calling upon Mrs. Alma Deering, chief ranger of St. Francis court, who gave the address of welcome. The speaker expressed her gratification at the response the occasion had been accorded and welcomed all in the name of the local court.

Rev. Father Hogan was the next speaker. He congratulated the ladies upon the splendid program, lasting from dawn to dark, a fitting observance of the twenty-five years of progress made by the order. Father Hogan expressed the hope that the local court would grow and prosper, continuing to increase as a power for good in this community in which its rightful place is realized and appreciated. He urged the court to increase its membership and to go even farther in assisting in the organization of other courts in the Brainerd territory.

Miss Mary L. Downes

Miss Mary L. Downes, high chief ranger, was then called upon, and responded with an eloquent address on Forestry. Miss Downes stated that it was seldom her privilege to find as encouraging a group of Foresters as she found in the Brainerd Court. She expressed her appreciation of the progress the local court has made, and rejoiced with the Brainerd ladies in the observance of their silver jubilee.

The pioneers in any field are always confronted with uphill work and many hardships and disappointments, said Miss Downes, but the accomplishments of St. Francis court in its early years of existence has stood the test of time, and upon such foundations the high court office has been able to build a strong organization, which now numbers 67,000

Catholic women.

"Our society," continued Miss Downes, "is on a safe, sound and permanent basis, well able to meet the claims of all members, for which, of course, it was organized. It is considered by experts as safe and as strong as any fraternal or old line benefit association."

"We are assured that if we never took in another member, the reserve fund we now have and the income we are collecting would be sufficient to pay the claim of every member and have $1,000 for the payment of the last member's claim, a truly enviable record for any insurance organization."

Miss Downes said that every member holds a great and just pride in the organization, and is endeavoring to make it the largest and strongest benefit society of women in the world. It now boasts the lowest rates for members between the ages of 60 and 85 years, and some time ago paid out more than a half million dollars to those over seventy years of age who preferred the cash surrender value of their policies to the carrying of its insurance.

In pointing to the rapid growth of the order, the speaker stated that more than two thousand new members had been received already this year, and that it is the hope of the order to gain at least five thousand new members before the year is closed. Miss Downes also referred to the excellent work that the order is doing along welfare lines, which is in reality a side issue carried on entirely by voluntary contributions. One of the projects along this line is the remodeling of an old dormitory at Marquette, Michigan, which is being fitted up for use as a Catholic center for girls attending the normal in that city.

Father Spain's Address

Father Spain, in his address, called attention to two of the tenets of the order, unity and charity, and stated that it must be recognized that the order has a responsibility to its members, the Catholic church, to the neighborhood, the coming generation and to Almighty God.

The local court was invited and urged by Father Spain to assist in the organization of a branch of the fraternity in Pine River, a virgin territory for such work. He congratulated the ladies on their achievements during the twenty-five years of St. Francis court's history, and commended them to still greater activity in the future.

Mrs. Fannie Miller

Mrs. Fannie Miller, high trustee, of Minneapolis, stated that she was very proud of the Brainerd court, of what it stands for and what it is doing. She urged the local ladies to continue their good work, which will she said, make them better Catholics, better women and better foresters. She congratulated the local officers and the jubilee committee on the excellent manner in which the ceremonies of the day had been carried out, a credit to all concerned in the big event.

Father Walter Remis

Father Walter Remis commended the court upon its work, and called attention to one of the virtues it practices: charity. A part of the meaning of the word charity, he stated, was the spreading of the truth about the Catholic church to the multitude of non-Catholics who are not familiar with the facts as they exist.

Father Remis said that the Catholic church is the biggest and oldest institution in existence. It now has three hundred million members and is more powerful and influential now than ever before in its history. A spreading of these and other truths about the institution should form a part of the work of charity for which the Foresters are organized.

"Progress should be your watchword," stated Father Remis, "Not alone progress financially, but in charity to members, and to the church. It means success to you as individuals and success for your order."

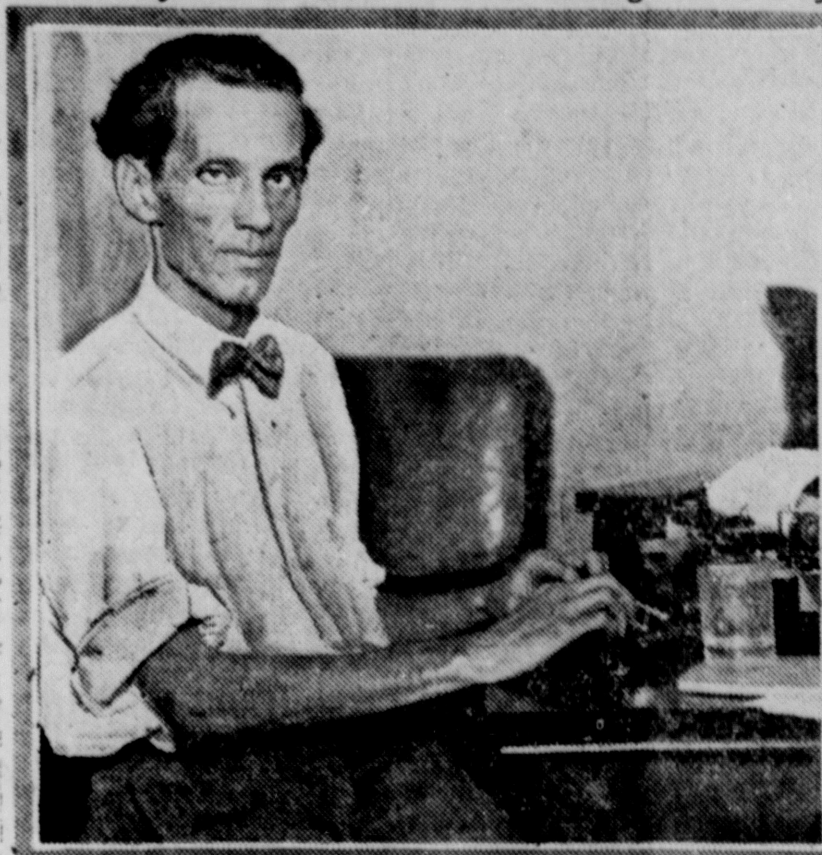

Mrs. Mary Fleming

Mrs. Mary Fleming, organizer, from Virgin'a, Minn., urged the court to seek new members and to aid in the organization of new courts. "Love, benevolence and charity," the motto of the Foresters, should be constantly before every member, said the organizer. Mrs. Fleming holds the enviable record of bringing in thirty new members in one class in Brainerd.

Mrs. Bertha Theviot

Mrs. Bertha Theviot spoke in behalf of the charter members. She looked back on the history of the court with great satisfaction and expressed her thanks for the love

(Food More Poisonous Than Nourishing, Declares Lawyer Who Goes Without Eating for 30 Days)

Harry M. Manley, Freeport, Long Island, lawyer and psychologist, recently completed a thirty-days' fast while making an experiment on the potentialities of the human mind and body. He contends that when ordinary food is eaten there is more loss from it due to elimination of poisons than there is gain from its nourishment. By doing without eating for a sustained period, he states, the poisons are eliminated naturally without loss of strength. When he started fasting he weighed 148 pounds and at the end of the thirty days his weight was 110. The lost weight, he claims, was merely poisonous fatty tissues. He was strong and muscular at 110 pounds and able to continue his regular daily business routine.

GERMANY FACING BITTER COMPETITION

(By United Press)

Berlin, Aug. 8.—Professor Gehl-hoff, who recently toured the United States, says that Germany will find it very hard to compete with the others especially with the United States, whose methods of production and technique he extolled. The start in technical research on a scientific basis which Germany gained previously over the others is fast dwindling, he claimed.

Ford's Automobile works at Detroit, and the factories of the American glass industry, Professor Gehl-hoff pointed out as models of the application of modern methods of production.

Mrs. Anna Quinlan gave the history of the local court, which depicted graphically the struggles in the early days of its existence, the progress that has been made, and called to mind many names and faces of pioneers who have long since gone to their reward.

Musical Numbers

Musical numbers were furnished by Mrs. J. H. Krekelberg and Miss Geraldine Kiebler, with Mrs. Milton Mahlum at the piano. Mrs. Krekelberg rendered as a vocal solo, "A Perfect Day" and Miss Kiebler gave as a violin selection, "The Old Refrain."

The program opened with the assemblage singing "America" and closed with the hymn, "Holy God, We Praise Thy Name," which brought to a close a jubilee that will long be remembered by the foresters of Brainerd, since it marks an important event in the march of progress of this organization.

LAMPERT LUMBER CO. BUYS BUSINESS OF AMERICAN FUEL CO.

(Little Falls Daily Transcript)

The American Fuel company, owned and managed by Mr. Sayre, this morning disposed of its entire business and holdings here to the Lampert Lumber company, which recently purchased the Broadway Lumber company. The fuel office will now be in connection with the lumber office at 211 Broadway east. The deal includes the coal sheds used by the American Fuel Company as well as wagons, horses and other equipment.

G. W. Harnwell, formerly of Ferguson Falls, is now in charge of the management of the local yard for the Lampert company. He expects to move his family to this city next week and will occupy the residence at 107 Fourth street northeast, recently vacated by Dr. S. J. Casaly.

Mr. Sayre, who established the fuel company here about three years ago, is undecided as to his future plans but for the present at least expects to remain in Little Falls.

A Plea to Men

Please Keep Your Hair
By Edna Wallace Hopper

You men admire luxuriant hair, thick and lustrous, healthy, clean. And so do we, dear sirs. Then, why will you, through sheer neglect, let your hair disappear.

My hair is finer than 40 years ago.

It grows thicker every year. I have never known falling hair or dandruff, and never a touch of gray. Just because I use a reched for the best hair helps men know. And I had them combined in a tonic and cleanser which I call Hair Youth. From time to time each better help discovered has been added to it.

I believe the experts I consult know all that is known about hair. I know they supply me their utmost. Certainly no factors ever discovered have brought finer hair than mine.

Now I offer you, as I offer women, this supreme help for the hair. It is concentrated. You apply it with an eye dropper directly to the scalp. There it combats the hardened oil and dandruff which so stifle the hair roots. It tones and stimulates. Then hair thrives just as flowers thrive in a well-kept garden.

I know that here I place at your command the greatest hair help in existence. Not some fallacious theory, not some ordinary tonic, but the best that science has discovered, so far as I can find.

All druggists and toilet counters supply my Hair Youth under guarantee. The first package brings you help you seek, or I will pay the cost. The cost is 50 cents and $1 with eye-dropper. Let me urge you to try it. We women—all of us—love to see healthy, healthy hair. And I have found the way.

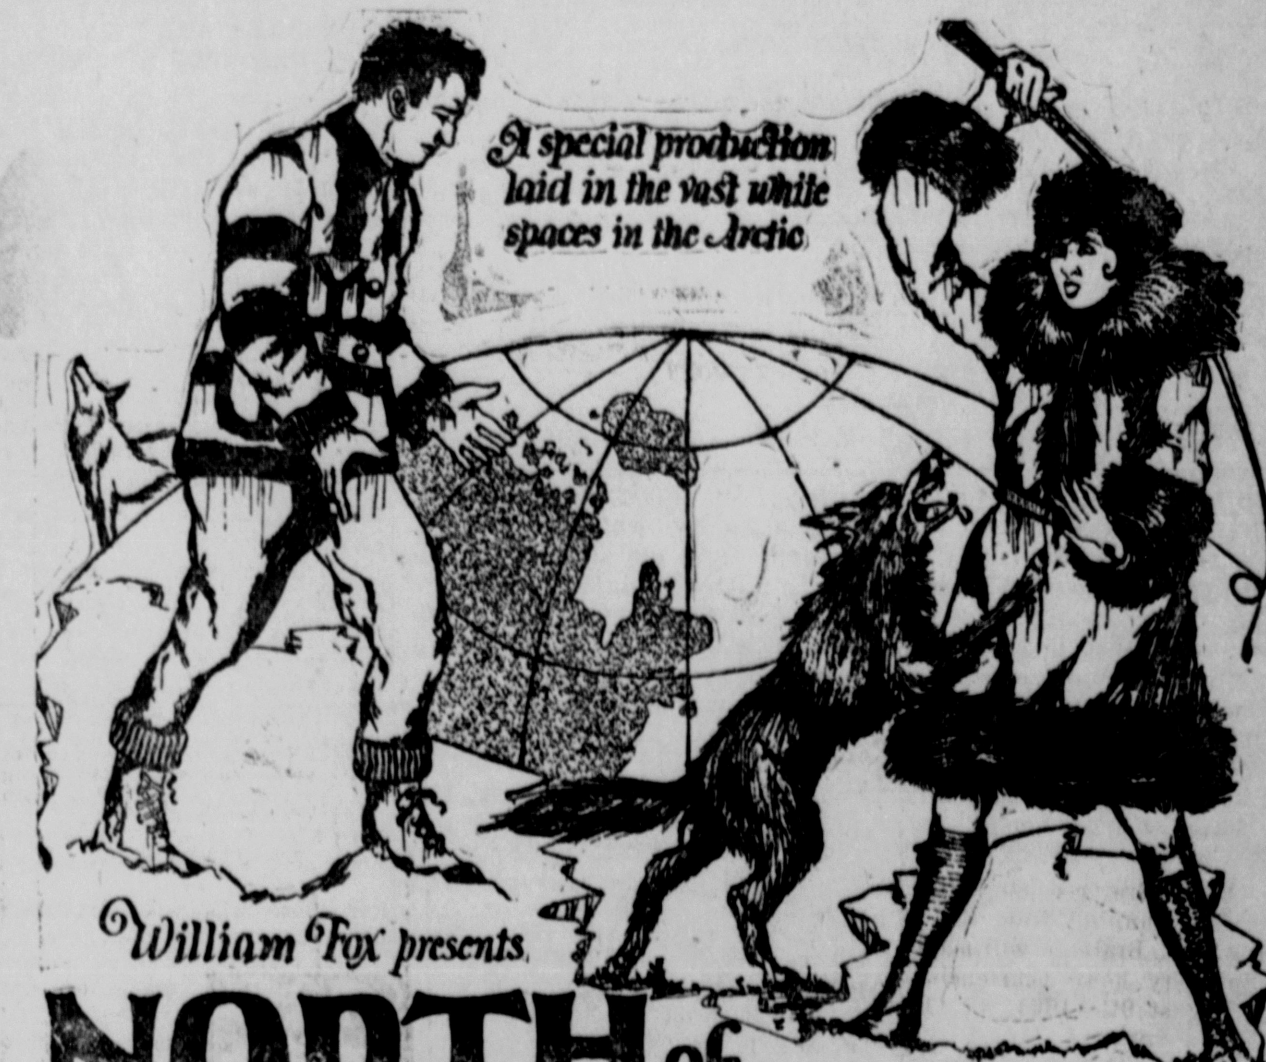

I will send you a bottle to try without cost if you mail this coupon to me.

Mrs. Anna Quinlan gave the history of the local court, which depicted graphically the struggles in the early days of its existence, the progress that has been made, and called to mind many names and faces of pioneers who have long since gone to their reward.

Musical Numbers

Musical numbers were furnished by Mrs. J. H. Krekelberg and Miss Geraldine Kiebler, with Mrs. Milton Mahlum at the piano. Mrs. Krekelberg rendered as a vocal solo, "A Perfect Day" and Miss Kiebler gave as a violin selection, "The Old Refrain."

The program opened with the assemblage singing "America" and closed with the hymn, "Holy God, We Praise Thy Name," which brought to a close a jubilee that will long be remembered by the foresters of Brainerd, since it marks an important event in the march of progress of this organization.

LAMPERT LUMBER CO. BUYS BUSINESS OF AMERICAN FUEL CO.

(Little Falls Daily Transcript)

The American Fuel company, owned by C. M. Sayre and J. C. Patience and managed by Mr. Sayre, this morning disposed of its entire business and holdings here to the Lampert Lumber company, which recently purchased the Broadway Lumber company. The fuel office will now be in connection with the lumber office at 211 Broadway east. The deal includes the coal sheds used by the American Fuel Company as well as wagons, horses and other equipment.

G. W. Harnwell, formerly of Fergus Falls, is now in charge of the management of the local yard for the Lampert company. He expects to move his family to this city next week and will occupy the residence at 107 Fourth street northeast recently vacated by Dr. S. J. Cansaly.

Mr. Sayre, who established the fuel company here about three years ago, is undecided as to his future plans but for the present at least expects to remain in Little Falls.

A Plea to Men

Please Keep Your Hair
By Edna Wallace Hopper

You men admire luxuriant hair, thick and lustrous, healthy, clean. And so do we, dear sirs. Then, why will you, through sheer neglect, let your hair disappear?

My hair is finer than 40 years ago.

It grows thicker every year. I have never known falling hair or dandruff, and never a touch of gray. Just because I searched the world for the best hair helps men know. And I had them combined in a tonic and cleanser which I call Hair Youth. From time to time each better help discovered has been added to it.

I believe the experts I consult know all that is known about hair. I know they supply me their utmost. Certainly no factors ever discovered have brought finer hair than mine. Now I offer you, as I offer women, this supreme help for the hair. It is concentrated. You apply it with an eye dropper directly to the scalp. There it combats the hardened oil and dandruff which so stifle the hair roots. It tones and stimulates. Then hair thrives just as flowers thrive in a well-kept garden.

I know that here I place at your command the greatest hair help in existence. Not some fallacious theory, not some ordinary tonic, but the best that science has discovered, so far as I can find.

All druggists and toilet counters supply my Hair Youth under guarantee. The first package brings you help you seek, or I will pay the cost. The cost is 50 cents and $1 with eye-dropper. Let me urge you to try it.

We women—all of us—love to see heavy, healthy hair. And I have found the way.

I will send you a bottle to try without cost if you mail this coupon to me.

IS THE U. S. A. FOOL PROOF?

WITH the above as a heading, the Chicago Tribune proceeds to excoriate Charles W. Bryan of Nebraska because of his antagonism to a national defense test. And Mr. Davis, running mate of Mr. Bryan, has endorsed the Nebraskan's views. As governor of Nebraska, Bryan issued a statement that the state would do something half hearted to comply with national plans for the test but protested against it, misrepresented it, and revealed his opposition. He issued orders for an inspection of the National Guard, but said he did not countenance any civilian participation.

He said it was a military gesture, an imposition on the working people, an economic loss and would be a discouragement to war sick Europe to see the people of the United States strutting around in preparation for war when they had no war in sight.

Bryan thinks the country avoided a few wars because it was not prepared for them. We do not know what wars they were. The preventive did not work in the revolution, the war of 1812, the Creek and Seminole and other Indian wars, the Mexican war, the civil, Spanish and world wars, not to count the Philippine, Chinese and a few other military undertakings.

The United States avoided one war because it was prepared. It did not have to fight to eject the French from Mexico. That was because it had a veteran army entirely competent for the occasion, the only time that American diplomacy and American military force were ever in agreement. The result—no war.

Just about ten years ago Charles Bryan's brother, W. J., was sitting at a desk in the state department blowing bubbles and writing peace treaties. They can be found in the files, some thirty of them, but shortly afterwards Mr. Bryan was running out of Washington with his resignation tied to the doorknob because he did not dare any longer be connected with the destiny of the United States as it closed in on a President who was more indoctrinated with internationalism than Bryan himself.

Charles Bryan may be the next President of the United States. It's a possibility contingent on the failure of the electoral college and the house of representatives to elect a President. If that happens it will be because of La Follette, who also wants to send the fleet to the junk man and muster out the army.

The United States may be almost fool proof but we'd like better evidence that it is entirely so. No other nation ever was.

DID NOT KNOW THEIR OWN CHILDREN

ONE thing brought out by one of the alienists who testified at the Leopold-Loeb trial is that the parents of the boys did not know their own children. They did not enter into thorough understanding or comradeship.

Said Dr. Glueck: "The home should create an atmosphere that encourages the child to feel free to talk himself out, to pour forth his childish troubles, his fancies and ideas—and there should be someone to listen and respond."

Pity the home whose parents have not the time or the inclination to hear childish plaints or to advise them. No child can be free or natural unless he can unburden his soul.

In speaking of the Leopold and Loeb families, the alienist said he had tried to become acquainted with them and said further in justice to them that they had done all in their power and knowledge, but still they did not realize. Very few parents have any idea of what their children's thoughts are composed of and what dreams make up their existence. Children should never be left to their own devices.

SUMMER RESORTERS COME TO TOWN

THIS season, more than any other, Brainerd has entered into an exchange system with the summer resorts and tourists. Our town people attend the dances at the resorts and in turn the resorts and tourists attend our Lum park dances.

Last night, for instance, with the Nebraska Sereaders, college boys of the University of Nebraska playing, there was a wonderful outpouring of resorters from the Nebraska colony on Big Pelican lake and other points. Lum park pavilion had 150 couples on the floor and that is the highest record in pavilion history.

Tourists at the Tourist Park are spending days in Brainerd when hitherto, last year, on account of limited accommodations, a day was all any tourist could spend in Brainerd. They are now making Brainerd a base for several days recreation and are enjoying the bathing and other advantages at Lum park and also touring the immediate vicinity of Brainerd.

HARD TO COMBAT ICE

THE American fliers can combat winds and waves, but an ice line such as the coast of Greenland harbors, is something that cannot be conquered by mere hydroplanes. One can hardly suppose the planes will venture into such territory when even their scout boat is stuck in the floes.

Clear water is needed for landing places for the planes. To be compelled to make a forced landing in ice floes is only to invite disaster for the expedition and death for the fliers.

The American fliers have made too good a record so far to imperil the finish. Extreme caution must be exercised, in order to conclude the perilous flight over Greenland's icy mountains.

SECURE BIG CONVENTION FOR BRAINERD

THANKS of the city are due Drs. J. A. Thabes and R. A. Beise who secured the Northern Minnesota Medical Society convention of 1925 for Brainerd. Asked at the Elks meeting last night how they secured the convention, Dr. Beise said they worked two years for the big gathering. The convention will bring to Brainerd 200 or more delegates.

Conventions when planned and carried out systematically bring people to our city, bring business and best of all acquaint the delegates with the innumerable resources of the city of Brainerd, of the Brainerd Lake Region and the other tributary country.

AFTER all the bully-ragging and four-flushing and flim-flamming by congress about "helping the farmers," it was left to the Lord to become the pinch hitter, and the farmer is now contentedly smoking his pipe on the top rail while he watches the crops bounding into dollars, says the Hibbing News.

NEBRASKA AND EASTERN IOWA STORMS

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 8.—Rain, wind, hail and floods damaged Nebraska and eastern Iowa to the extent of hundreds of thousands of dollars last night and early today. Thirty telephone lines out of Omaha were down, and telegraph service was meager.

The worst damage was done in the vicinity of Columbus, Neb., where the Loop River left its banks, carrying much livestock away and inundating fields over a strip several miles wide and 35 miles long. All bridges over the Loop, Beaver and Cedar Rivers were damaged or washed out.

Six inches of rain fell at St. Louis, flooding the town to a depth of three feet. A Chautauqua was in progress in St. Edwards when the storm broke. The tent was ripped to shreds and 300 persons forced to race for high ground, from which they were rescued by boats.

Hundreds of motorists on the Lincoln Highway were marooned by floods and were being rescued today.

Union Pacific branch lines near Columbus were washed out. The main line has not yet been flooded but it is feared floods will raise the Platte River to overflowing when waters of its tributaries reach it.

The storm was the worst in 19 years. Hail struck cornfields in a strip 10 miles wide and 18 miles long northwest of Des Moines, destroying the crops.

The Iowa National Guard in camp at Fort Dodge was put in a bad way when the storm levelled almost every tent at the fort. Boy Scouts in camp northeast of Des Moines suffered the same experience.

ONE WOMAN KILLED BY STORM IN IOWA

Des Moines, Iowa, Aug. 8.—One woman was killed and hundreds of thousands of dollars' damage was done in Iowa early today when a wind and rain storm swept across the state.

Mrs. Ray Lytle, wife of a farmer living near Granger, was fatally injured when the high wind moved her home from its foundation, tore off the roof and a bolt of lightning set fire to the building. She died a short time later.

In the vicinity of Granger, Polk City and Colfax, much damage is reported to crops and trees but no word of fatalities and no injured have been reported.

Many tents in the LaSalle Catholic boys' camp near Granger were blown down and the boys forced to seek shelter in nearby buildings.

At Camp Dodge, where the Iowa national guardsmen are encamped, tents were blown down but no serious damage done. Small damage was done in the city of Des Moines itself.

PENN POULTRY SHOW UNIQUE

(By United Press)

State College, Pa., Aug. 8.—Plans are under way for the second State Standard Production Poultry Show, which will be held here Oct. 23, 24 and 25. The event, which is one of the few of its kind in America, is managed by the student poultry club at the Pennsylvania State College, under the supervision of the poultry department of the School of Agriculture.

Last year, more than 600 choice birds, representing eight different breeds, competed for the prize money offered in the various classes.

The show this year promises to surpass the one held last year, both in quality and number of entries.

The object of the show is to offer the poultry producers of the state an opportunity to place their birds in competition. Because the birds are judged both from type and utility standpoint, the small producer will have equal chances with the poultry fancier. The producing ability of the birds will be given equal consideration with conformity to type in placing awards. The birds will be judged by members of the poultry staff at Penn State.

The birds will be housed in the spacious stock pavilion at the college, and will be well cared for by students of the poultry department. This makes it possible for farmers to send in their birds without coming themselves. In addition to the show, several educational exhibits will be arranged for the many visitors who are expected to attend.

Nita Naldi and Matt Moore in the Paramount Picture "The Breaking Point" A Herbert Brenon Production

Why "The Breaking Point?" Mr. Brenon Explains the Title

When the mind is taxed to "The Breaking Point," one of two things must happen, according to Herbert Brenon who produced Mary Roberts Rinehart's novel of that name as his latest production for Paramount.

"Suicide is one way," and the other is nature's own way of taking care of the mind. It is a brain revelation that drives all memory of what caused the trouble back into the subconscious mind and keeps it there.

In "The Breaking Point," Matt Moore plays the role of a man whose mind gives way when he thinks he has become a murderer. When he recovers his poise, the memory of the murder is lost in the depths of his subconscious mind where it remains for ten years. Only the sight of his former associates, who lead him step by step through the events which led up to the murder, is sufficient to shock him into complete consciousness of the things which caused his mental collapse.

Nita Naldi, Patsy Ruth Miller and George Fawcett are featured with Matt Moore in "The Breaking Point" which will be shown at the New Park on Saturday and Sunday.

POLITICAL

BOLL WEEVIL IS RAMPANT

STALKS THE CAPITAL SCRIBES, IT IS REPORT-ED

POLITICAL PROPHECY IS ABROAD IN WASH-INGTON

(By United Press)
Washington, Aug. 8.—Once more the presidential campaign is on and the "boll weevil" political prophet is abroad in Washington.

This is the unhappiest period in the life of Washington correspondents. For it is "open season" on them. The "boll weevil" prophets are the pursuers, the reporter the pursued.

Diligent reporters in search of elusive items are stalked by the wily "boll weevils" in all but deserted Capitol corridors, hotel lobbies, and even on downtown street corners. Once a victim is cornered, he might as well submit, for there is no escape from the ranagaboo predictions when the "boll weevil" opens fire.

As such times, life becomes a burden to the correspondents. They become a furtive, talk-shy lot. At the stealthy approach of a "boll weevil," a vigilant reporter is likely to break into a brisk trot, leaving his companion with a suspended sentence in his mouth.

In the old days they were called "characters." But the newer generation of correspondents has dubbed them "bolls." It is a tribe indigenous to Washington. Nothing like it exists anywhere else in the world.

From Every Section

The "bolls" recruit their ranks from every section and every walk of life. The only thing common among them is accumulation of "inside low-down on the situation" that they insist upon pouring into any willing or unwilling ear. And while they will expand and expound at length to any that will or can hear, newspaper men are their chief game, for they have the human weakness to see their opinions and "information" in print. Like their brothers in other great cities, the "boll weevil" are "myster-ies." No one has yet discovered how they live. At all times of the day and half of the night, they are in evidence, partaking of free hospital-ity in hotel lobbies or haunting Cap-itol hearing-rooms and galleries. They all have the political complex. Their favorite dodge for an alleged vocation is "selling insurance," but no one ever caught a "boll" in the act of writing a policy.

One of the best examples of the tribe is a former member of Congress. He served one term in the house 15 years ago, but he never fails to allude to the people of his former district as his "constituents." His particular grievance at present is the Ku Klux Klan. He always has it "straight" that the Klan issue is going to decide the campaign.

The "Colonel"

Then there is the "colonel." His long, snowy hair always carefully brushed, rubicund of face and with a fierce military mustache, he ap-pears daily in a clean "billed shirt," which contrasts with the spots on his vest. His chief claim to fame is hav-ing told a President of the United States to mind his own dogdashed business when he removed the "colonel" from a southern post of-fice years ago.

The "judge" is another prize "boll." His brother "bolls" say that he has a fine legal mind. But the "judge" turned his talents to politics and he is always looking for a job with the "next administration." Of tremendous bulk, he spends the meantime talking politics in a high, piping voice.

A Newspaperman!

Another "boll" is the correspond-ent for the "Patent-medicine Gaz-ette." He is so called because he always poses as a newspaper man, but the only writing he was ever known to do was a series of lauda-tory recommendations from public men for a patent medicine which is said to have a high percentage of al-cohol. The series was repudiated, but the "correspondent" claims to be very close to all in high official life. And there are many, many more to make life hideous for the Washing-ton correspondents.

Women Surely Have Keen Sense of Money Values

If the average woman were without a sense of money values, as charged by a budget expert, the average Amer-ican family would have less money in the bank than it has. Eliminating the girl who lives at home and can spend her earnings for pretty things, and whose extravagance is one of the manifestations of her youth, it would have been fairer to say the average housewife of America has a very keen appreciation of the value of money and how hard it is for the husband to earn it. It is probably quite true that women do not budget their expenses; neither did the great United States government until a few years ago. If the budget expert would go into the stores patronized by the wives of wage earners and note with what care and anxiety the customers spend their money and how anxious they are to get full value, she might revise her judgment a bit. With due respect to the paragraphs, the women are shrewd buyers. The hardly saved dol-lars which bulk so large in savings fund reports and bank deposits are where they are because the women of the country have put them there, often against the will of their husbands. The average man is a much swifter spender than a woman, and despite the jokes of the paragraphers and comic artists, all women do not throw away money on innumerable hats and gowns. The budget expert did less than justice to her own sex when she criticized their financial acumen.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

GYPSY'S CURSE ON COMPOSER'S FAMILY

(By United Press)

Los Angeles, Aug. 8.—A strange legend of Europe was recalled when descendants of Johann Sebastian Bach and Felix Mendelssohn Bar-tholdy met at a symphony concert here. Miss Violet Von Bach, a di-rect descendant of the famed com-poser, told the story to Mrs. Allard de Ridder, whose great grandfather was a brother of Mendelssohn.

"There has not been a composer in our family since Johann Sebastian," Miss Bach said. "Europeans blame it on a curse.

"Bach, in his later years, was deaf and blind. A son of his, Henry, was inclined toward a life of gayety. He became enamored of a gypsy. One day, while ill, he called upon her and died in her arms.

"Townsfolk, finding young Bach there, believed the girl was the cause of the tragedy and burned her at the stake. As she died, she uttered a curse upon the Bachs and said that never again would there be a great composer in the family."

Miss Bach is a graduate of the University of Vienna and is the au-thor of two books of poems and of "Love," a play now being produced in Europe. Mrs. De Ridder is a well-known singer.

KITCHEN BOUQUET

Made from fresh vegetables. Gives rich flavor, color and taste to all home cooking.

Onion Soup

1 tablespoon Kitchen Bouquet; 5 large onions; 1 tablespoon finely minced carrot; 3 tablespoons butter; a few slices of onion, boiling water; salt and pepper to taste; 3 bouillon cubes; 1/2 cup thin cream. Peel and parboil onions for 3 minutes, drain and chop fine, place in saucepan with carrot and butter and simmer 5 minutes. Add flour, stir and add boiling water, salt and pepper and cook slowly a half hour. Strain, add bouillon cubes and stir until dissolved. Add Kitchen Bouquet and cream. Place several pieces toast in tureen, pour over soup and serve at once.

Mock Terrapin Soup

Boil 1 1/2 pounds of calf's liver in salt water for half an hour; add small herbs; 6 grains of pepper; one teaspoonful cloves; a few slices of onion, carrot, etc. When the vegetables are done, take them out and mash by putting them through a colander. Make a Spanish sauce by frying bacon; put into the fat a little slice of onion, 6 peppers, two sprigs celery, one-half cup tomato and cook brown. Make a paste of one teaspoonful of salad oil, a yolk of hard boiled egg, dust of cayenne pepper, make into small balls; put these into Spanish sauce, then put the sauce into the soup. When they come to the top, skim them out. Add 1 teaspoonful Kitchen Bouquet. Put in the tureen a slice of lemon, and pour in the soup, then cut the calf's liver into small bits and add it.

Savory Chowder

1 teaspoonful Kitchen Bouquet; 1 qt. diced raw potatoes; 1/4 lb. chipped beef; 4 tablespoons butter; 1 cupful corn; 1 medium-sized onion, chopped fine; a small piece of red pepper; 1 1/2 cupfuls hot milk; 2 cupfuls hot water. Put butter, onion, meat and some of the pota-toes in the saucepan and fry golden brown, then add the water and the rest of the pota-toes and pepper. Stew slowly till done, about 1 hour. If one uses green corn, score down the rows of kernels and scrape out the inside. Cook this in a little water separately, being careful not to scorch it. When the other mix-ture is done, add the hot milk, corn, Kitchen Bouquet and salt to taste. Let boil up once and serve hot with crackers.

POLITICAL

BOLL WEEVIL IS RAMPANT

STALKS THE CAPITAL SCRIBES. IT IS REPORT-ED

POLITICAL PROPHET IS ABROAD IN WASH-INGTON

(By United Press)
Washington, Aug. 8.—Once more the presidential campaign is on and the "boll weevil" political prophet is abroad in Washington.

This is the unhappiest period in the life of Washington correspondents. For it is "open season" on them. The "boll weevil" prophets are the pursuers, the reporter the pursued.

Diligent reporters in search of elusive items are stalked by the wily "boll weevils" in all but deserted Capitol corridors, hotel lobbies, and even on downtown street corners. Once a victim is cornered, he might as well submit, for there is no escape from the ranagaboo predictions when the "boll weevil" opens fire.

As such times, life becomes a burden to the correspondents. They become a furtive, talk-shy lot. At the stealthy approach of a "boll weevil," a vigilant reporter is likely to break into a brisk trot, leaving his companion with a suspended sentence in his mouth.

In the old days they were called "characters." But the newer generation of correspondents has dubbed them "bolls." It is a tribe indigenous to Washington. Nothing like it exists anywhere else in the world.

From Every Section

The "bolls" recruit their ranks from every section and every walk of life. The only thing common among them is accumulation of "inside low-down on the situation" that they insist upon pouring into any willing or unwilling ear. And while they will expand and expound at length to any that will or can hear, newspaper men are their chief game, for they have the human weakness to see their opinions and "information" in print.

Like their brothers in other great cities, the "boll weevils" are "mysteries." No one has yet discovered how they live. At all times of the day and half of the night, they are in evidence, partaking of free hospitality in hotel lobbies or haunting Capitol hearing-rooms and galleries. They all have the political complex. Their favorite dodge for an alleged vocation is "selling insurance," but no one ever caught a "boll" in the act of writing a policy.

One of the best examples of the tribe is a former member of Congress. He served one term in the house 15 years ago, but he never fails to allude to the people of his former district as his "constituents." His particular grievance at present is the Ku Klux Klan. He always has it "straight" that the Klan issue is going to decide the campaign.

The "Colonel"

Then there is the "colonel." His long, snowy hair always carefully brushed, rubicund of face and with a fierce military mustache, he appears daily in a clean "billed shirt," which contrasts with the spots on his vest. His chief claim to fame is having told a President of the United States to mind his own dogged business when he removed the "colonel" from a southern post office years ago.

The "judge" is another prize "boll." His brother "bolls" say that he has a fine legal mind. But the "judge" turned his talents to politics and he is always looking for a job with the "next administration." Of tremendous bulk, he spends the meantime talking politics in a high, piping voice.

A Newspaperman!

Another "boll" is the correspondent for the "Patent-Medicine Gazette." He is so called because he always poses as a newspaper man, but the only writing he has ever known to do was a series of laudatory recommendations from public men for a patent medicine which is said to have a high percentage of alcohol. The series was repudiated, but the "correspondent" claims to be very close to all in high official life. And there are many, many more to make life hideous for the Washington correspondents.

It is probably quite true that women do not budget their expenses; neither did the great United States government until a few years ago. If the budget expert would go into the stores patronized by the wives of wage earners and note with what care and anxiety the customers spend their money and how anxious they are to get full value, she might revise her judgment a bit. With due respect to the paragraphs, the women are shrewd buyers. The hardly saved dollars which bulk so large in savings fund reports and bank deposits are where they are because the women of the country have put them there, often against the will of their husbands. The average man is a much swifter spender than a woman, and despite the jokes of the paragraphs and comic artists, all women do not throw away money on innumerable hats and gowns. They saw the troop of 500 American athletes, field and track men, arrive and joined in the welcome extended. He saw Nurmi, the great Finnish long distance runner, win several of his events.

The American trapshooting team won by three targets. In individual shooting the Hungarian Dr. Halsey scored first, the Finn Huber second. Hughes and Montgomery of the American team tied for third place and in the shootoff Hughes made third place and Montgomery fourth. Sharman of Salt Lake City was fifth.

Coming home on the French liner Paris there was orchestral music, moving pictures, dancing, and pools on the ship's daily mileage. In this pool business the captain put in more than he ever took out. In fact, he never won a single time. Jesse Laskey was a royal entertainer. On the last night into New York the captain met a Mr. Mathews of England, who said he was an inventor. He didn't tell what his line was until the ship docked and the photographers streamed over the decks and took his picture. Then Mathews revealed he was the inventor of the death ray for which three governments are now bidding.

At Kiley's Cabaret in Paris, said the captain in a reminiscent mood, he met the Prince of Wales. Captain Fawcett told him he owned a ranch near Calgary and then the prince warmed up immediately. He ordered Whiz Bang sent to St. James Court. In closing, Captain Fawcett reiterated that Crow Wing county was in a class by itself and all foreign pleasures paled into insignificance when ranged alongside the beauties of this lake region. He was glad to be at home and glad to meet with a bunch of good fellows in the Elks lodge.

Life Membership Presentation
Past District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler Charles D. Johnson, in an eloquent address, presented to N. M. Paine an honorary life membership in Brainerd lodge. He sketched the career of Mr. Paine, his service to the flag in the civil war, his interest in Elkdom.

When Mr. Paine rose to respond, he broke down completely and tears welled into his eyes. The whole lodge congratulated him and applauded him when he thanked the brothers for the honors shown him.

Delegate's Report
Past Exalted Ruler John A. Hoffbauer, delegate to the Grand Lodge at Boston, gave a glowing account of the wonderful convention which exceeded all records in attendance, 2,500 delegates being present in Tremont Temple when the gavel sounded.

He paid a tribute to the work of the Minnesota State Association, its growing importance, the valiant work done by its president, John Regan of Mankato, and its vice president, Thomas B. Wilson of Minneapolis, and the editor of The Jolly Elk, Lannie Horn. For 20 years Lannie had worked his head off in the interests of the Elks and was still going strong.

He counseled everybody possible to be at the state convention and hear the reports made. The Minnesota State Association had no dead timber in it. It had a real regard for its members and especially its sick brothers from this and other states now at Rochester hospitals.

He told of the pleasant trip by rail and boat from Minneapolis to Chicago, to Niagara Falls, Cleveland, Rochester, Boston, and of the honors paid the delegation from Minnesota, Montana and North Dakota by Detroit lodge, and by Boston lodge and all the Elks lodges within a radius of 50 miles from Boston.

Memorial services of the Grand Lodge had a deep significance for Brainerd lodge as one of the members on the roll of departed was Judge

J. T. Sanborn. He told of Grand Lodge work, statute changes, etc. On his way home he visited the national headquarters building being erected near Lincoln Park.

Dr. A. K. Cohen Presided
Dr. A. K. Cohen, Exalted Ruler of Brainerd lodge, presided with his usual good humor and ability and introduced the various speakers. The house and social committee outdid itself in serving a splendid luncheon. William Garvey was the caterer.

Fifteen or more candidates were voted on, thus giving evidence of the nucleus of a large class soon to be initiated.

As to boat reservations from Duluth out during the state convention, Secretary John J. Cummins reported 44 reservations. Members and wives were represented from Brainerd, Staples and the Iron range. Everything looked to a large attendance at the state convention.

A committee headed by Andy Smraker is attending to necessary publicity in the way of badges and banners.

The High-Grade Gasoline

Is the Business Gasoline

MANY motorists have put Red Crown in the tanks of their coupes, limousines, touring or other passenger cars, after having proved in their trucks that for service and economy, Red Crown is the business gasoline.

One of the large packing houses writes:

"We find that Red Crown Gasoline gives entire satisfaction in our large fleet of motor trucks—starting easily, accelerating rapidly, and giving excellent mileage.

"In our business every truck must move on time. Dependability is essential in order that exacting schedules may be maintained in the distribution of perishable products.

"Included in our fleet are trucks of various makes and sizes, from 1-ton delivery cars to 15-ton tractor trailers, and they operate efficiently on Red Crown Gasoline."

Summer tourists will find Red Crown everywhere in ten Middle Western States, and everywhere the same. Perfidious savages

In the Torres Straits Islands in the East Indies, there are no trees suitable for canoe building. So the natives, a cruel, treacherous race, import their canoes from the Fly River Delta in New Guinea—another place with an unenviable reputation. The distance between these two places is over four hundred miles, and no native in that region travels even one-quarter of that distance.

The word is simply passed on from tribe to tribe. On the strength of this vague order a canoe is built. Then it is relayed back. Each tribe of bloodthirsty cannibals tests and discusses it before passing it on. Finally the payment, shell necklaces, spear points, arm bands, makes its way to the canoe builders in the same leisurely fashion.

There is reason for this honesty in savages to whom perfidy is natural. If any of the parties in this complicated transaction were to risk being dishonest, their credit would be ruined. And though these natives may kill and eat each other, they hold barter inviolate.

Even savages understand that in commerce it pays to be honest, and to let the world realize your honesty! So in modern business. Advertising must be honest and it is a proof of honesty. A product's advertising is the best guarantee of its quality, usefulness and value.

The man who advertises is inviting your inspection. He is letting his goods stand on their own merit. He can't afford to deceive you. You can depend on him. That's why it pays to read advertising and to buy advertised goods.

BUILDING PROGRESS OF SCHOOL BOARD

Work in the Whittier School, Vernon White Contractor, is Nearing Completion

SHINGLE WASHINGTON SCHOOL

F. H. McCaffrey Has Painting and Decorating Contract of Several Buildings

The committee from the board of education of the Brainerd school district, having charge of buildings and janitors, submitted the following report of its activities at the regular meeting of the board on Monday night:

Contractor Vernon White is making good progress on the contract awarded to him. The two auditoriums are about completed with the exception of the slate in the folding doors. The class room in the basement of the Whittier building is nearing completion. Coal bins have been completed at this building and the coal transferred. A number of additional improvements have been made in the basement of the Whittier building and the general appearance has been much improved.

Contractor White has the composition shingles stored on the ground of the Washington building and will begin reshingling this building in the course of a few days. The change of weight of the shingles used on this job is explained in a former report of the committee. Mr. White estimates of work and material furnished on his contract to date amount to $2,000, as shown by his statement attached. The committee recommends that he be allowed the sum of $1,700 to apply on his contract.

The committee has advertised for bids for the painting and decorating the interiors of the Washington, Lowell, Whittier buildings according to specifications submitted, and this contract was awarded to F. H. McCaffrey, his bid being the lowest of any received.

The city engineer has informed the committee that any amount of dirt will be available for grading around the Whittier building. The committee recommends that a good amount be taken and that it be graded around the building and also on the east side of that block. Possibly two or three hundred loads should be taken at this time. There is only the cost to be considered in the way of leveling off the ground when the dirt is dumped.

The gas tank to the Matthews gas machine outfit at the Washington school has been taken up. The tank wire scraped and painted with two coats of mineral paint, new pipe fittings attached, a new wooden cage made for the tank and the same again buried. It will no doubt hold for several years to come.

The fire boxes for the boilers in the Washington building have been re-lined and the work is about completed. The committee found this work a much bigger job than was at first anticipated. It was deemed advisable to remove the nipples and other piping on the boilers, as they were in very bad condition, some had corroded clear through.

Some action should be taken toward providing another class room at the Lincoln building by using the space now occupied as a book room, and office of the Veterans Bureau. Some action should also be taken as to the disposition of the buildings on the Lincoln school grounds in order to get more available play ground space.

Other smaller repairs are being taken care of and as usual, it is the committee's desire to have the buildings in good condition for the opening of school in September.

About thirty-five more large light fixtures should be placed in the various buildings, which number would greatly increase the lighting and improve conditions generally.

The recommendations made by the building committee were acted upon by the board at its meeting on Monday evening, and the committee's suggestions were, in the main, followed out.

ARNOLD KALLAND HAS PASSED AWAY

Well Known Resident of Southeast Brainerd Died of Complications Caused by Accident

LEAVES MANY FRIENDS HERE

Funeral Services to be Held Saturday Afternoon From Norwegian-Danish Lutheran Church

Arnold Kalland, well known resident of Southeast Brainerd, passed away at 5:35 o'clock Thursday evening. Death was caused by complications resulting from an accident eight years ago in which Mr. Kalland's back was broken.

Deceased was very well known in Brainerd and leaves a large circle of friends who deeply regret his loss.

Beside his father, Thomas Kalland of Brainerd, he is survived by four sisters and two brothers, being Mrs. George H. Lord, of Tacoma, Washington, Mrs. W. S. Hielof, of Pasadena, California, Mrs. Frank Arnold, of Bemidji, Mrs. F. A. Richardson of Auburn, Washington, Harold Kalland of Brainerd, and J. F. Kalland, of Minneapolis.

SONG CAUSED TROUBLE

Royalties Accruing to Estate of Composer "Silver Threads Among Gold" Estranges Family

J. E. O'Brien, of the Northern Home Furnishing Company, has handed the Dispatch the following article, clipped from "The Brunswick Salesman," a house organ issued by the company manufacturing the Brunswick phonographs.

The article made a special appeal to Mr. O'Brien, first because the song, "Silver Threads Among Gold" is a general favorite, and second because it seems so highly improbable that there would be marital troubles in the family of the composer of such a ballad. The article is quoted verbatim:

"It seems impossible that the old standard 'Silver Threads Among Gold' should bring anything but happiness to those who know it, and especially to those who had anything to do with the composition of it. Yet, to the family of the composer, Hart P. Danks, it brought only sorrow, estranging the children from each other and from their parents. A few weeks ago Mrs. Danks, who inspired the song, died in her Brooklyn home. 'Hart Danks died in 1904, after separating from his wife. He appointed his son executor of his estate and from that day to this there has been no happiness in the family. The trouble centered about the disposition of the inheritance—money and property accruing mainly from the sale of the song."

"It's a funny world where so beautiful a thought as that contained in 'Silver Threads Among Gold' should be the direct cause of a wholesale family eruption. Mr. O'Brien states that such a story as the above almost makes him lose his faith in human nature."

HISTORY OF THE LOCAL COURT

Mrs. Anna Quinlan Relates Same at Banquet of Women's Catholic Order of Foresters

COURT FORMED IN SUMMER 1899

Deputy Organizer Mrs. Fortier and Sister Dunn of Brainerd Assisted

At the twenty-fifth anniversary banquet of the Women's Catholic Order of Foresters, held at the Ransford hotel on Thursday evening, Mrs. Anna Quinlan gave the following history of the local court:

"Events, quoth the prophet, are the springs from which flow the waters of life," and "History," saith Webster, "is the narration of events." Hence in these brief paragraphs we can only hope to record the chief events, the high water marks which perhaps have left their imprint on the annals of Catholic Forestry, and which certainly have become ineluctably traced in the life of each of us.

The summer of 1899 was made memorable in the history of Forestry by the organization of St. Francis Court No. 393. The organization took place on August 2nd, mainly through the efforts of Mrs. Fortier, deputy organizer from Superior, and Sister Dunn. By reason of their unceasing efforts, twenty members were secured for the order. Sixteen of the twenty were initiated on August 2nd, when Elizabeth Rogers, high chief ranger, instituted the court. Four of the members were absent and were initiated at the next meeting.

Margaret Hemstead was elected first chief ranger, Elizabeth Koop, recording secretary, Bertha Theviot, treasurer and Sadie Dunn, financial secretary. Mary Kwaton was one of the first conductors. The charter was left open for sixty days to allow additional members to join. During this time twenty more were secured, making a total of forty charter members.

Esther McNaughton was the first honorary or social member, and, by strange coincidence, she was the first death in the organization. Her demise caused a great deal of sorrow. Each member took it to heart almost as much as if one of her own family had passed away.

In those days we were decidedly like one big family in our kindly, friendly interest in each other's well being. BUILDING PROGRESS OF SCHOOL BOARD

Work in the Whittier School, Vernon White Contractor, is Nearing Completion

SHINGLE WASHINGTON SCHOOL

F. H. McCaffrey Has Painting and Decorating Contract of Several Buildings

The committee from the board of education of the Brainerd school district, having charge of buildings and janitors, submitted the following report of its activities at the regular meeting of the board on Monday night:

Contractor Vernon White is making good progress on the contract awarded to him. The two auditoriums are about completed with the exception of the slate in the folding doors. The class room in the basement of the Whittier building is nearing completion. Coal bins have been completed at this building and the coal transferred. A number of additional improvements have been made in the basement of the Whittier building and the general appearance has been much improved.

Contractor White has the composition shingles stored on the ground of the Washington building and will begin reshingling this building in the course of a few days. The change of weight of the shingles used on this job is explained in a former report of the committee. Mr. White estimates of work and material furnished on his contract to date amount to $2,000, as shown by his statement attached. The committee recommends that he be allowed the sum of $1,700 to apply on his contract.

The committee has advertised for bids for the painting and decorating the interiors of the Washington, Lowell, Whittier buildings according to specifications submitted, and this contract was awarded to F. H. McCaffrey, his bid being the lowest of any received.

The city engineer has informed the committee that any amount of dirt will be available for grading around the Whittier building. The committee recommends that a good amount be taken and that it be graded around the building and also on the east side of that block. Possibly two or three hundred loads should be taken at this time. There is only the cost to be considered in the way of leveling off the ground when the dirt is dumped.

The gas tank to the Matthews gas machine outfit at the Washington school has been taken up. The tank wire scraped and painted with two coats of mineral paint, new pipe fittings attached, a new wooden cage made for the tank and the same again buried. It will no doubt hold for several years to come.

The fire boxes for the boilers in the Washington building have been re-lined and the work is about completed. The committee found this work a much bigger job than was at first anticipated. It was deemed advisable to remove the nipples and other piping on the boilers, as they were in very bad condition, some had corroded clear through.

Some action should be taken toward providing another class room at the Lincoln building by using the space now occupied as a book room and office of the Veterans Bureau. Some action should also be taken as to the disposition of the buildings on the Lincoln school grounds in order to get more available play ground space.

Other smaller repairs are being taken care of and as usual, it is the committee's desire to have the buildings in good condition for the opening of school in September.

About thirty-five more large light fixtures should be placed in the various buildings, which number would greatly increase the lighting and improve conditions generally.

The recommendations made by the building committee were acted upon by the board at its meeting on Monday evening, and the committee's suggestions were, in the main, followed out.

SONG CAUSED TROUBLE

Royalties Accruing to Estate of Composer 'Silver Threads Among Gold' Estranges Family

J. E. O'Brien, of the Northern Home Furnishing Company, has handed the Dispatch the following article, clipped from "The Brunswick Salesman," a house organ issued by the company manufacturing the Brunswick phonographs.

The article made a special appeal to Mr. O'Brien, first because the song, "Silver Threads Among The Gold" is a general favorite, and second because it seems so highly improbable that there would be marital troubles in the family of the composer of such a ballad. The article is quoted verbatim:

"It seems impossible that the old standard 'Silver Threads Among The Gold' should bring anything but happiness to those who know it, and especially to those who had anything to do with the composition of it. Yet, to the family of the composer, Hart P. Danks, it brought only sorrow, estranging the children from each other and from their parents. A few weeks ago Mrs. Danks, who inspired the song, died in her Brooklyn home.

"Hart Danks died in 1904, after separating from his wife. He appointed his son executor of his estate and from that day to this there has been no happiness in the family. The trouble centered about the disposition of the inheritance—money and property accruing mainly from the sale of the song.

"It's a funny world where so beautiful a thought as that contained in 'Silver Threads Among The Gold' should be the direct cause of a wholesale family eruption.

Mr. O'Brien states that such a story as the above almost makes him lose his faith in human nature.

HISTORY OF THE LOCAL COURT

Mrs. Anna Quinlan Relates Same at Banquet of Women's Catholic Order of Foresters

COURT FORMED IN SUMMER 1899

Deputy Organizer Mrs. Fortier and Sister Dunn of Brainerd Assisted

At the twenty-fifth anniversary banquet of the Women's Catholic Order of Foresters, held at the Ransford hotel on Thursday evening, Mrs. Anna Quinlan gave the following history of the local court:

"Events, quoth the prophet, are the springs from which flow the waters of life," and "History," saith Webster, "Is the narration of events." Hence in these brief paragraphs we can only hope to record the chief events, the high water marks which perhaps have left their imprint on the annals of Catholic Forestry, and which certainly have become ineluctably traced in the life of each of us.

The summer of 1899 was made memorable in the history of Forestry by the organization of St. Francis Court No. 393. The organization took place on August 2nd, mainly through the efforts of Mrs. Fortier, deputy organizer from Superior, and Sister Dunn. By reason of their unceasing efforts, twenty members were secured for the order. Sixteen of the twenty were initiated on August 2nd, when Elizabeth Rogers, high chief ranger, instituted the court. Four of the members were absent and were initiated at the next meeting.

REFeree BEST JUDGE OF FOUL

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Aug. 8.—Deciding the question of a foul in the prize ring is always a precarious business.

Boxers, from time immemorial, and one of the latest of these is Georges Carpentier, have shown adeptness at taking advantage of technicalities involved in the Marquis of Queensbury rules.

As it stands at present, the referee is the sole judge. If a boxer makes a claim of foul, or the referee observes a foul blow, he must award the fight to the aggrieved party.

Often, the third man in the ring is not in a position to judge exactly where a blow landed. This was the case when Tunney stopped Carpentier. Andy Griffin, ordinarily the coolest and most able of referees, had to decide whether the Frenchman had been struck low. He decided to the contrary, stuck to his guns and the outcome was as satisfactory as possible under the turbulent circumstances with which Carpentier and his crafty manager, Francois Descamps, sometimes manage to surround a defeat.

It is argued by some that the judges should be polled in an instance like this, since they are so distributed about the ring that one might conceivably have been in a better position to judge the blow in question than was the referee.

But think what this would mean. A tired fighter, struck in the stomach, would yell, "Foul." The referee would have to stop the fight and consult the judges. Meanwhile, seated on the floor, the tired fighter would have recovered his breath and could go on with the fight. Moreover, he would be able to continue to cry "Foul" on similar occasions, ad lib.

Mistakes happen under the present system—and one MAY have been made when Carpentier lost to Tunney—but it is a better system than the proposed substitute.

Referees are generally old-timers. They know the game and the men, and not much is "put over" on them. They are keen of eye, quick of decision, and have the confidence of absolute authority which would be lacking if their decisions were disputable. It would be as though appeal were permitted from the decisions of an umpire at a baseball game on balls and strikes.

A fighter is entitled to all he can get—within the rules. A good idea is to have as few rules as possible.

It would be no new thing to have a good referee make a mistake in an important fight. Sometimes it seems as though the more important the fight the bigger the mistake.

Certainly, during the never-to-be-forgotten Dempsey-Firpo go there were fouls galore. But that affair had developed into a man-to-man survival of the fittest sort of a scrap, and the referee would have been criticized if he had observed the strict letter of ring law and awarded the fight to Firpo.

Once, when Jimmy Wilde was losing his title to Pancho Villa, the little Filipino started a punch with the bell, and it knocked the Englishman kicking. It was technically a foul, because the blow landed after the bell had rung, but it wasn't claimed.

When Dempsey won the heavyweight crown from Willard at Toledo, he was permitted by his seconds to leave the ring, at the end of the first round, under the impression that he had knocked out the giant, who lay stunned on the canvas. But the timekeeper decided the bell had saved Jess, and there was a hurry call to get Dempsey back into the ring before Willard's seconds should claim the fight for their man on the ground that Dempsey had disqualified himself by quitting the ring.

By the way, Andy Griffin, who refereed the recent much-disputed Tunney-Carpentier fight, says he did not try to stop the fight in the tenth round, as we all imagined. Griffin says that after the official physician had indicated by a sign that Carpentier appeared in a bad way, he asked the Frenchman if he wanted to quit. It was then that Georges spat out his indignant "No" through bleeding lips.

The Yankees are beginning to root for Ruth to put on a little spurt and better his home-run record of 1921. Swinging into August, the Bam was only five behind his best year and was tearing off four-ply belts at double the rate he showed at the end of July three years ago.

Luis Angel Firpo engaged for training quarters, for the Willis fight, those at White Sulphur Springs (not far from Saratoga Springs) used by Champion Jack Dempsey last year. Asked about this, the Wild Bull of the Pampas said: "Well, they weren't unlucky, anyhow."

Harking back to the blow that stopped Carpentier, the question has been raised as to whether it may not have been a solar plexus punch, knocking the wind from his body and leaving him with a pain such as may have made him think he had been fouled. It was this blow which gave Fitzsimmons the heavyweight championship from Corbett at Nevada.

Gene Tunney reminds one somewhat of Jim Corbett, both having something of an air of reserve about them; reserve, that is, against the straight out-and-out, low-browed "killer" strain that makes the really great fighter. Tunney has a penchant for things financial, and is one of those rare things—the sublimated boxer.

The world's worst break on a home run came to Fred Merkle, more than a decade after his failure to touch second base in a crucial game made his name synonymous with "bone" for many a year. Merkle is playing for Rochester now, in the International League, and in a game with Baltimore, which the Orioles won, 4 to 2, his champion hard luck break occurred.

There were two on and two out. Merkle belted the ball over the fence. The runner on second started with the pitch, and passed the runner who had been on third, and who was jogging in. This made the third out, and none of the three runs counted.

To make it a little worse, Fred was tied for the league lead in homers at that time.

TILDEN AND JOHNSTON ON DAVIS CUP TEAM

SELECT SLUGGERS DEFEATED THE INVINCIBLES

VICTORS ARE NEWLY ORGANIZED TEAM IN THE CITY

FIRST DEFEAT FOR THE INVINCIBLES, SCORE 27 TO 21

The Select Sluggers, a newly organized team in the city kittenball circles, gave the veteran O'Brien's Invincibles their first defeat of the season at the Koering grounds last night. Hurley, throwing for the losers, was touched up for 27 runs, while Peterson, doing the mound work for the Sluggers, held the opposing maulers to but 21.

Tonight the Sluggers engage in a duel with the Service Motor Co. at the Main Street grounds. In last night's game, Mellquist and Orth of the Sluggers, made home runs, and Hanson of the Invincibles also made a homer.

There may be a number of people who would like to know more about how this game is played. Those who play it are enthusiastic in declaring that it runs a close second to regular baseball as a sport, and many prefer it to the more well known game. The play is similar to baseball in many respects. Ten men compose a team, the positions of the players being like in baseball, except that two shortstops are used, one between first and second, the other between second and third. No gloves or masks are used by any players, and the bat is a light affair. The ball is a small sized indoor ball, being twelve inches in circumference. It is pitched underhanded, with the elbow straight, and the arm parallel to the body. The bases are forty-five feet in length, half the distance of regulation baseball. A runner may not leave his base until the pitched ball has reached or passed the home plate, or has been hit. A runner may not score from third except on a hit. These are the essential differences.

The advantages of kittenball, as over regular baseball, are the small playing field necessary, the small amount of equipment needed, and the fact that the players are close together, insuring a fast game.

By the way, Andy Griffin, who refereed the recent much-disputed Tunney-Carpentier fight, says he did not try to stop the fight in the tenth round, as we all imagined. Griffin says that after the official physician had indicated by a sign that Carpentier appeared in a bad way, he asked the Frenchman if he wanted to quit. BRAINERD ELKS HAVE SUNDAY GAME

WILL MEET THE C. C. C. RAINBOWS OF PINE RIVER AND BACKUS

The Brainerd Elks baseball team meets the C. C. C. Rainbows of Pine River and Backus, at Backus on Sunday August 10th.

The Rainbows have walked away with the honors in practically all games that have been played this season, but they see in the Brainerd Elks their first real opposition, and are looking forward to a hard-fought battle.

Local Elks and all Brainerd baseball fans are urged to make the trip to Backus and help the home team bring back the bacon. In addition to witnessing a fast ball game those who make the trip are promised a pleasant holiday.
